Springfield here to-day.

An invasion into New Britain and Waterbury will include the Orators trip for to-morrow and Thursday. The week will be closed with two games at home.

George Bannoh, who is with Bridgeport this year, never looked to be in better condition than he does to-day. Meriden Journal. George cracked out three hits, and drew a pass yesterday. Poor batting, what?

Cy Miller really leads the League yesterday with an average of .383. There were three men above him, but they have played in but a few games. Bannoh is Bridgeport's second man, with .343.

Holyoke fell from first to seventh place in team fielding during the week, while Bridgeport remained in second place. Hartford is now first with an average of .346 with the Orators but four points behind.

It has been suggested that last year's "Runaways," the Springfields, be dubbed this year, the "Fadeways." The Ponies have a very good team, but did not have a good start. They will be heard from, and then watch out.

Bourquin, who is playing second base for Bridgeport, is one of Sam Ken-

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago, May 11.—Washington came West yesterday and went down to defeat at the hands of the White Sox in an eleven inning game 1-0. White and Johnson pitched fine ball, but the latter weakened in the final round, when three successive hits won the game. The score: 00000000001-1-0-3.
Chicago 00000000001-1-0-3.
Washington 00000000000-0-0-1.
Batteries: White and Sullivan; Johnson and Street.

St. Louis, May 11.—The Athletics took the first game of their Western series here yesterday 5-1. "Rube" Waddell pitched against his former teammates but could not hold them down. The score: 0000010000-1-7-3.
Philadelphia 0000010000-1-7-3.
Batteries: Plank and Thomas; Waddell and Stephens.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boston, May 11.—"Bugs" Raymond was in rare form yesterday, the Giants winning over the Phillies 4-2, the fourth time in the series that the same score has been made. The score: 100010000-2-0-0.
New York 100010000-2-0-0.
Boston 0000000000-0-0-1.
Batteries: Raymond and Schell; White and Bowerman.

Brooklyn, May 11.—Covaleski, the Giant Killer, was again knocked out of the box yesterday by the Dodgers winning over the Phillies 4-2. Bell had perfect control and held the visitors well in hand. His hitting scored three of the Brooklyn's four runs. The score: 0000010000-1-7-3.
Philadelphia 0000010000-1-7-3.
Batteries: Plank and Thomas; Waddell and Stephens.

medy's pickups and looks good.—Meriden Journal.

It took twelve innings for the Ponies to down New Haven yesterday at Savin Rock. Pitcher Doll weakened in the final round, the visitors getting two three baggers, a double and three singles, netting four runs.

Uncle Jeems O'Rourke was a pleasant smile and well he might. That was a good looking ball team he sent out on the field Saturday. Old Ed Ladd was just as spry as any of them and did some nice work in the deep field.—Hartford Times.

The good work of Umpire Mason at this time should not go unnoticed. He does not act in fear of the home manager, his decisions being just as they seem them. Yesterday his work was entirely satisfactory, there being but a few decisions that could be questioned. When it comes down to a few out of the total decisions made, his judgment is exceedingly good.

Yesterday's crown of victory should have rested on the Orators shoulders, but for that slip up of Koehler's in the second. That's just the way the Senators have been winning their games all season. Their only strong point is their pitching staff.

Pitcher Groom will be given a further trial, as yesterday's defeat could not be laid to his work. As it was, if the game was played right the Senators would have been shut out in the three innings that he pitched.

Hilt's three bagger in the third was the longest hit seen on the grounds this season. If the fence was not in deep left field, it would have been a homer sure. His second three saccer was also a scorcher and made chasers out of McKenna and Hart.

Miller fell from grace yesterday, his batting not being up to the standards which he has set for the past two weeks. Three strike outs does not look very good for the league leader. His smearing of Evans' name and grounds in the second just before the go up robbed Evans of a hit.

John "Red" Waller has been sold to the St. Louis Nationals by the Giants. This will be welcome news to local fans as he will be used to better advantage with his new team, than playing the bench for New York.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

(By Dick Barrett.)
The Newsboys defeated the Bengal Reserves Sunday at the Mud Flats in a double header. The score of the first game was 12 to 8. The second game was 12 innings, the final score being 12 to 9.

The St. Augustine's defeated the St. Thomas A. C. Saturday at the M. A. C. lot by the score of 19 to 6. It was nothing but Murphy with the St. Augustine's and the St. Thomas boys did not know where they were for four or five innings. Kelly played a strong game for the St. Thomas A. C. Downing also played well.

The Mohawks of the "Hollow" defeated the Clinton Reserves Saturday afternoon at the M. A. C. 6 to 3. The Mohawks had a soft bunch when they beat the Clinton reserves. Quite right why don't they play some other teams besides those little tots who are breaking their backs jumping for the ball.

The North End Sluggers challenge any 11 or 12 year old team in the city for game Saturday afternoon at Hall's lot at 2:30. Answer through this paper.

The Newsboys A. C. would like to play the Modocs next Sunday at their lot or any other lot that they can play in.

PRESIDENT WILL HONOR OCCASION

(Special from United Press.)
Gloucester, Mass., May 11.—On "Gloucester Day," August 4, President Taft and his family will visit this city to witness the most elaborate out-door performance ever attempted in this country. The President has accepted the invitation as has Secretary Meyer. "Canterbury Pilgrims" is the basis of this extensive pageant, the celebrations in scenes to be taken in the direction of Eric Fape of Boston, and the musical parts to be furnished by Walter Damosch. It is expected that nearly 1,100 persons will participate.

MRS. DALZELL'S REMAINS GOING TO PITTSBURG

(Special from United Press.)
Washington, May 11.—After brief services here this afternoon the remains of Mrs. John Dalzell, wife of Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania, will be taken to Pittsburgh for interment in Allegheny Cemetery. Funeral services will be held in the Third Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh tomorrow, of which church she was a member.
Mrs. Dalzell had been ill for eight weeks from a complication of stomach and heart trouble. The end came last night at 9 o'clock in her home on New Hampshire avenue. She was 63 years old.

ONE FATAL MISPLAY COST ORATORS THE GAME

Hartford's Crack, Evans, Struck Out 16 of the Home Aggregation.

A little lack of thinking on the part of young Mr. Koehler, the Orators' snappy catcher cost a game at Newfield Park yesterday afternoon when the Hartford won 10-5. The big noise was made in the visitors' portion of the second, and many a faithful fan was heard to groan under the strain. With one man out and three on bases, Pitcher Evans hit hard to Miller but that player was there with the stick and smacked the ball and took it home to Koehler, who waited for Metzger to cross the plate, while all he was supposed to do was to touch the plate and double up Evans.

Pitcher Evans showed the same effectiveness against this year's team, as he did last season when he made a world's record with his no hit no run game. Yesterday's record was sixteen strikeouts of which Miller and Koehler contributed three apiece. Groom, the new man secured from the St. P. league was on the mound for the Orators during the rough passages in the second, but was chased to the stables in the fourth inning by a double and a home run.

Robert's hit in the opener was the only thing doing on the part of the visitors as the remaining three men went out in order. Bridgeport had a chance to do things in their half, but the mix 'em delivery of Evans spoiled their chances. Miller struck out, Bannoh hit a liner at Warner who hit for that player to handle. Hilt was hit by the ball, while Ladd was safe on Koehler's wide throw to catch him, but the next two batters fanned the ozone.

But, Oh! the agony of the second, Metzger led off with a hit, McKenna walked, and Justice was safe on Koehler's wide throw to catch him, but the next two batters fanned the ozone. Metzger led off with a hit, McKenna walked, and Justice was safe on Koehler's wide throw to catch him, but the next two batters fanned the ozone.

The visitors added one more in the sixth, Hart hit one at Pollard which bounced off his shin in the air. Conner's attempt at a sacrifice brought him around to second and Hart to third as Pollard threw the ball where the bleachers. Hilt came home when Metzger went out on a fly ball to Bannoh, which counted as a sacrifice hit. Bridgeport got one more in the sixth on Steinhauser's fly, and Pollard's two bagger. Three hits, stolen base and an outfield fly scored two more for the visitors in the last session. Hilt's second three bagger, and Phelan's two saccer added another to the Orators score in the latter part of the ninth. The score: HARTFORD, ab. r. lb. po. a. e.

Arkansas' Big Debt.
A mighty small proportion of the people of the United States know that the state of Arkansas owes the famous Smithsonian Institution, in Washington, nearly $2,000,000, which it has not the faintest intention of paying. In 1838, the first year of the reign of the late Queen Victoria, the United States received on account of the Smithsonian bequest, the details of which are too well known to require repetition, a sum aggregating $500,000. A good proportion of this was by act of congress invested in bonds of the state of Arkansas. Not a cent of the principal or interest of this ever has been paid. The bonds now are moldering in the vaults of the United States treasury in Washington, with coupons untouched by the scissors. And there they probably will remain for all time. The federal government was forced to make good Arkansas' delinquency and appropriate money for the inauguration and maintenance of the institution which is now famous all over the country.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Chicken For Invalids.
Some people think it would be impossible to boil less than a whole chicken to produce a satisfactory result, and, as an invalid can only eat a very small portion, the rest would have to be eaten by other persons—a needless extravagance, as a half or even a quarter of a fowl can be prepared thus, and so both monotony and waste can be avoided.

If possible, stew the piece in stock, enough to cover the chicken, but if this is not at hand put an onion, a carrot and a few pieces of bacon rind into the water to give it flavor. Bring the liquid to the boil, put in the piece of chicken, boil for a minute and then pull back the pan off the fire and simmer gently until the chicken is tender.

When it is done take it out and make a sauce by adding to one cupful of the stock in which it was boiled four tablespoonsful of milk and a beaten egg. Stir this over the fire for a minute or two, but do not let it boil, and serve while hot.

Too Easy to Work.
The luxury of physical inactivity appears to be fully appreciated in the south, writes Mr. Bradford Torrey in "Nature's Invitation," and as an illustration he tells of a walk he took near Miami, Fla., and of a conversation he overheard:

"I was walking away from the city at a rather brisk pace one morning when I passed a lonesome shanty. A white man sat upon the rude piazza, and another man and a boy stood near. 'Are you going to work today?' asked the boy of the occupant of the piazza.

"No," was the answer, quick and pithy. "Why not?"

"I do not expect to hear the philosophy of indolence more succinctly and pointedly stated if I live a thousand years."

A Nice Point of Law.
During Queen Victoria's reign one of the solicitors of the queen who had jurisdiction over capital cases chanced to be a man named Bacon. By a curious chance a man named Hogg was condemned to death under his jurisdiction. The day before the execution Hogg sent for his executioner, Bacon. The prisoner pleaded for interference in his case because of his claims of relationship to Bacon. The solicitor, always ready with a reply, answered: "I have no proof of our relationship. You are doubtless mistaken. At any rate, the execution must take place, for only in that way can matters be set right. Hogg is not Bacon until it is dead." It is said the prisoner laughed in spite of himself.

Getting Rich Slowly.
Ordinarily a great fortune is built up like a stone wall—a stone at a time. The young man who declines to lay the first stone because it comes so far short of a wall will never make progress in financial masonry. An immense proportion of the people of this country live up to their incomes, laying aside nothing for the traditional rainy day. Because they cannot save $1,000 in a bunch they save nothing. The greatest financial kings of the world have not been above taking care of the pennies even. The great financial institutions look after even the fractions of pennies.—Troy Press.

Not So Bad.
"Did you tell the landlord what an awful leak there was in the roof?" "Yes, I told him."

"What did he say?" "He said he'd fix the roof as soon as you pay the rent for one week."

"Did he? I guess it ain't much of a leak."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Of One Mind.
Self Made Man—I can't see any sense in wasting so much valuable time on dead languages. College Student—Neither can I. Since Wilkins started in to win the Latin prize he hasn't been worth a cent in the boat crew.

The Rabbit's Foot.
Brudder Bones—Do you think hit am lucky to hab a rabbit's foot? Brudder Jones—Dat depends. If de rest ob de rabbit am hitched on to it an' he am young an' fat an' tender, I sure do.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Their Opportunity.
Miss Fluffy—I made quite an impression at the reception, didn't I? Everybody seemed to be talking about me. Candid Friend—They talked still more about you after you had gone!

Parental Prejudice.
"But why didn't you consult your father and me before you were married?" "Because, mamma, I was afraid you might prejudice us against him."—Life.

All the News.
A wise editor says: "A man told us the other day that we did not publish all the things that happened. We should say not. In the first place, there is somebody else depending on us for a living. If we printed all that happens we would soon be with the angels. In order to please the people we must print only the nice things said of them and leave the rest to gossip. Yet it's a fact we don't publish all the news. If we did wouldn't it make spicy reading? But it would be for one week only; the next week you would read our obituary. All the news is all right when it's about the other fellow."

"Lady" and "Woman."
As to the rather subtle question of "gentleman," "lady," "man" and "woman," there is a difference (writes a correspondent) between the sexes. A duke must always be a man, unless he be, for the purpose of the conversation, a "gentleman," with great emphasis of voice. Without emphasis every man of gentleman's rank is a "man" always and in every social circumstance. But with women it is entirely a matter of the adjective. With an adjective a woman is a "lady." Who ever asked, on hearing that a friend was to marry, "Who is the woman?" Nor do we say that we met a woman at dinner who told a scandalous and the "lady" is at once a pretty woman, a well dressed woman, rather a dull woman.—London Chronicle.

The Mystery of Health.
Whenever any one is released from jail or penitentiary after a long sentence we read that while he was in poor or downright bad health when he entered he comes out as hearty as a brick. Yet almost without exception jails and penitentiaries are insanitary, unless places, with no facilities for precautions usually taken by those who wish to get or keep healthy. The mystery lies in two words—regularity and diet. The first is perhaps the more important. Clocklike regularity; everything done on the second and on the same second every day; a recognition of the fact that the body is a machine. Then, as a supplement to this, simple diet—plain, not too varied—enough to eat, but not too much.—Saturday Evening Post.

Cures For Witchery.
Rev. Joseph Doderidge in his "Notes of the Settlement and Indian Wars in Pennsylvania and Virginia," in that portion of the work treating of "Witchcraft" says: "The diseases of children supposed to be inflicted by witchcraft were those of dropsy of the brain and the rickets. These were diseases which could neither be accounted for nor cured, consequently they were ascribed to some supernatural agency. For the cure of diseases inflicted by witches the picture of the supposed witch was drawn on a stump or piece of board and shot at with a bullet containing a little bit of silver. This silver bullet transferred a painful and sometimes mortal spell on that part of the witch corresponding with the part of the picture struck by the bullet."
